DARK POOL TO PAY GROWERS FOR 1922 CROP

Announce $1,800,000 Distribution to Eastern, Western Dark Fired Districts.

SAME SUM ON OTHER CROPS ALSO TO BE PAID

Will Require Several Weeks To Complete Calculations at Hopkinsville.

Cadiz, Ky., Oct. 16.—Members of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association in the districts of the Black Patch will receive approximately $3,200,000 on the final payment for tobacco sold through the association during the five years of its active existence.

Of this sum, approximately $1,800,000 is to be paid to members in the Eastern and Western Dark Fired districts for the 1922 crop. A force of men and women is at work on these calculations at headquarters in Hopkinsville, and the distribution of this sum to the two districts will follow immediately upon the completion of the calculations. It will take a number of weeks to complete this work.

A sum about equal to the 1922 crop for the Eastern and Western districts, or about $1,600,000, will be available for distribution to members in practically all the districts on crops of other years. This will be taken up just as soon as payment for this 1922 crop has been completed.

Before payments on all tobacco are made, a total of twenty-two distributions will have to be made. This includes the different types and crops of different years in the various districts composing the entire territory of the Association.

ROAD GRAVELING HALF COMPLETED

Robinson Company Expects To Be Finished Before Work Order Expires.

More than half of the job of graveling the north highway from Murray to the Calloway-Marshall line was completed Tuesday of this week by the W. P. Robinson and Son Company of Owensboro.

The work order for the road was received only last week and the contractors are given ten days from the time of its receipt to make preparations for the actual work.

This means that the final date for completion has been set for approximately November 23. Under the present favorable weather the project will be completed several days before that time.

The contractors have been spreading gravel in the low places on the grade and draining during the past week in order to hold the better drained sections for work in wet weather. Several of these short stretches were being completed Wednesday and Thursday and it is expected that about five miles of continuous gravel from Murray will be ready for use by the latter part of next week.

The open weather has also enabled the bridge men to make rapid progress with their work.

Testing Reveals High Producers

A five-year-old Holstein cow owned by Edward Pearce at Long Run produced 1.6 pounds of butterfat and 13.7 pounds of milk in two days, and a five-year-old Jersey in the herd of C. P. Elliott at Murray produced 2.3 pounds of fat and 21 pounds of milk in two days, according to the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture's recent official testing for last month.

One hundred Jersey cows Holstein and five Guernsey cows are in the test. The Holsteins and three Jersey produced 3 or more pounds of fat each in two days, and 24 Jersey and three Guernsey produced a pound and a half or more of fat each in one day.

Mr. Stirling, business agent for the Jackson Purchase Oil Company, met in the late P. M. Holsteins and three Jersey produced 3 or more pounds of fat each in two days, and 24 Jersey and three Guernsey produced a pound and a half or more of fat each in one day.

Thoroughbreds Grasp Breaks To Edge Carbondale Here, 13 To 12

Profile had drawn blood by recording Carbondale's fumble of Wells' kick-off. Early in the second period, Murray counted what was eventually the winning point by touchdown on a straight foot-ball and getting the extra point, despite a wide drop-kick, when Carbondale was off-side.

In the fourth period the ball shifted back and forth, up and down the field with first the Thoroughbreds and then Carbondale seemingly on the verge of breaking through. Just before the final gun Hudgens snatched a short pass out of the air and dashed toward Murray's goal, at the same time, but by his own interference, shut Lady Luck aside and the runner trip and over his colleagues as the entire bunch endeavored to avenge and before he could regain his footing the frantic Thoroughbreds were on him.

The locals evidenced it was their first game by their erratic behavior and blunders. The former cost the local hacks several good chances to get away for Jones was while the latter permitted the visitors several nice plays.

Wells smashed the Illinois line to smithereens on several occasions while Captain Haynes also did splendid punting, particularly in the first half.

The Murray line was uncertain at times, with the exception of Jimmy Kenney, who was a thorn in the side of Carbondale's attack at his home.

This boy could make any line in the country, unless we admit Miss our guests.

Well, Eastern comes here next Saturday. A lot of color should mark this game as it will be the first occasion in which the Thoroughbreds meet representatives from a sister state school.

TIGERS, TORNADO TO CLASH FRIDAY

Two Bands to Entertain Spectators at Classic Game Friday at 3 p. m.

Whether a Tornado can twist a Tiger's tail or whether the latter's claws can break up a blue hurricane will be decided Friday afternoon when Coach Jack Gardner's Murray high school engage the Tikhman High School of Paducah.

Despite Paducah's good conference record thus far and three previous victories over Murray, each team is looking for a walk-over. Opponents have learned in the past few years that when the Tiger is apparently doing his best, he is most vicious.

According to observers, Mayfield's 44 to 0 victory over the Tigers last week was a highly misleading indication of the relative strength of the two teams. Paducah's men got some breaks that made the Chicago Cubs look like Dan Fouts' best team in the world's series.

The Paducah boys will bring their band along and the Teachers College band will also be on hand so that everyone may have all the band music they wish.

Game time is 3:00 o'clock and a jump to this battle will be time and money well spent.

SCHOOL PARADE FEATURES FAIR

Large Attendance, Splendid Exhibits, Band Concerts Mark Annual Event.

The annual Hazel community fair secured a high artistic and popular success Friday and Saturday of last week. Attendance was large at all the exhibits.

Perhaps the biggest feature of the program was the parade of school children, which numbered more than 600. Those in the march were Shiloh, Locust Grove, Paschall, Kilby, White Oak and Hazel. Headed by the Murray State Teachers College band, the children assembled at the school building and marched through town to the fair grounds.

Mrs. Leonard Owen, Mrs. R. L. Lanston and Mrs. O. J. Jennings of Murray, acted as judges in the parade of school children.

A complete list of winners in all shows and exhibits will be found elsewhere in this edition of the Ledger & Times.

Hazel News

Hazel Community Fair a Big Success Last Friday
 The community fair held last Friday at Hazel, was one of the most successful in the history of community fairs of the county. The departments all made splendid showings with good quality exhibits, only one thing was more inspiring than the exhibits, that was the spirit of the Hazel people, they were enthusiastic, they believe in their community and that is what it takes to make a success of an enterprise of that nature.
 The dinner prepared by the good ladies was entirely sold out at the noon hour and the management is very thankful for the splendid cooperation rendered in making this year's event so successful. The officials of the Hazel Community Fair are packing plans now for a bigger and better one for their community next year.

Plan U. S. Grading for Two Kentucky Tobacco Markets

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 17.—Mayfield has been selected as one of two Kentucky markets in which the government tobacco grading service will be tried this year, according to the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky, which is cooperating with the United States Department of Agriculture.

Mayfield is a small town in the tobacco belt of Kentucky, and is one of the best equipped for the service.

Negotiations are under way to install the service at the Paris market for burley tobacco. Farmers, warehousemen and other interested parties in the vicinity of Paris, with a few exceptions, have expressed themselves as believing that the service would be beneficial. If all warehouses and others interested in tobacco marketing will lend the experiment their support, the service seems assured.

The grading service, which was developed at Lynchburg, Va., provides for a government grader, on the warehouse floor, whose duty it is to examine the tobacco and place on the warehouse ticket the official grade into which the tobacco falls. The auction is then conducted in the usual manner, except that the grade is announced before the tobacco is sold. The average prices paid for each grade are posted in the warehouse so that buyers and farmers can see how the tobacco is selling grade by grade.

This information, it is said, will be of advantage to farmers who are in doubt whether or not to accept the bid offered. If they receive a bid about equal to the average price for the grade and quality of their tobacco, then they are getting about the prevailing market price. Buyers, too, will be benefited by the official grading. It is said, in their opinion of each basket, made in the hurry and rush of the sale, may be either substantiated or refuted by the deliberate judging of the grader.

Increased Number Study Agriculture And Home Economics

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—The increased enrollment in the College of Agriculture of Kentucky indicates a growing interest in the study of agriculture, according to Dean Thomas P. Cooper.

Two hundred and forty-eight students are enrolled in agriculture and home economics, compared to 217 at this time last year. One hundred and forty-eight students are studying agriculture and 100 are studying home economics.

Dean Cooper points out that interest in agriculture gradually is getting back to the pre-war basis. In the meantime, he said, positions for agricultural college graduates have increased in number and new fields opened up for men and women trained in agriculture and home economics.

Sixty-two counties and 11 states are represented in this year's enrollment in the Kentucky College of Agriculture. The states are Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Connecticut, Georgia, Virginia, West Virginia, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Texas, and Kentucky.

One foreign country is represented. Georgia Evenin came all the way from Russia to study here.

One girl is studying agriculture. She came from Chicago to make a special study of light horses, and hopes eventually to own a Thoroughbred horse farm. No boys are studying home economics.

Thirty-nine students in the freshman class in the College of Agriculture were members of agricultural 4-H clubs, and through club work obtained their inspiration to continue their education.

As a result of demonstrations on the farms of G. H. Buchanan and T. W. Minton & Company, 10 Knox county farmers will sow alfalfa this fall.

Cattle Wanted.—Will buy hogs, cows and veal calves any time at highest market prices.—Shroat's Meat Market.

4-H Club Members to National Dairy Show

Seven Kentucky 4-H club members who own producing cows attended the National Dairy Exposition in St. Louis with all their expenses paid, as a reward for their interests in good dairying. The state was divided into seven districts, and the boy owning the cow that produced the most butter in six months in each district was sent to St. Louis.

Trips were given by D. H. Ewings' Sons, Gray-Von Allmen Sanitary Milk Company and Sugar Cane Growers Association of Louisville, and by Mrs. E. A. Bauer, Tri-State, Beatrice and Merchants creamery companies of Cincinnati.

Boys who received trips from these companies were Herman Stephens, Princeton; E. W. Roberts, Kexil; Thomas Rowland, Salmons; Zeno Mordwick, California; Ramond Jesse, Frankfort; Ollie Atkinson, Owensville; and J. W. Croakley, Jr., Greensburg. The Blue Valley Creamery Company, Louisville, gave a trip to Henry Whitlow of Kexil, the state champion club member in dairying.

The De Laval Separator Company sent the state champion 4-H club dairy demonstration team to St. Louis. It was composed of Gayle Hamilton and Pryor Murphy of Graves county.

The state champion junior dairy cattle judging team also attended the National Dairy Exposition. It was composed of Margaret Powell, Sam Henry Silt and Mildred Basket, of Meade county.

Suggests Good Food Habits for Children

Physicians agree that good food habits are essential for good health. The taste for the various food flavors is developed and not inherited. If the following suggestions are observed, says Miss Florence Imlay, of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, children can be taught to eat all foods.

1. Start when the child is very young to give him tastes of new foods, but remember that a baby should always be fed under the physician's direction.
2. Gradually change liquids to solids and from just a taste to larger amounts.
3. Have the food well cooked, mildly seasoned and finely chopped.
4. See that the child has at least three hours of outdoor play daily.
5. See that the child is rested and calm at mealtime.
6. Have a calm atmosphere at the meal.
7. Have meals at regular times, approximately five hours apart.
8. Serve foods which the child is learning to like frequently and attractively.
9. Modify the flavors of strongly flavored foods by using them in creamed dishes, soups and the like.
10. Always serve something the child likes with something he dislikes.
11. Interest the child in the food by letting him help prepare the dish, plan the menu, etc.
12. Create a happy atmosphere at the table, and do not nag at the child with a continual suggestion to eat.
13. Do not make his eating habits the topic of conversation, and mention them only in positive terms; in other words do not talk about the child's dislikes before him.
14. Be sure the child is well and his throat in good condition and then do not allow him to "work you" by pouting, illness, choking, etc.
15. Eat the foods yourself which you expect to teach the child to eat.

To Whom It May Concern: Anyone who knows S. C. S. (Sam) Ellis, once of Calloway county, Kentucky, and now of Wayland, Texas, and will make affidavit that he (Sam Ellis) served in the Confederate Army, please write to S. C. S. Hazel News

Hazel Community Fair
The community fair held last Friday at Hazel was one of the most successful in the history of community fairs of the county. The departments all made splendid showings with good quality exhibits, only one thing was more inspiring than the exhibit, that was the spirit of the Hazel people, they were enthusiastic, they believe in their community and that is what it takes to make a success of an enterprise of that nature.
The dinner prepared by the good ladies was entirely sold out at the noon hour and the management is very thankful for the splendid cooperation rendered in making this year's event so successful. The officials of the Hazel Community Fair are making plans now for a bigger and better one for their community next year.
Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Mason, and Mr. Conner of Murray, were Hazel visitors Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Orr, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller and children, William, Cyrus and Gene, arrived on Tuesday, October 15, last Sunday to visit their son and brother, D. B. Orr, and

Plan U.S. Grading for Two Kentucky Tobacco Markets

Lexington, Ky.,—Mayfield has been selected as one of two Kentucky markets in which the government tobacco grading service will be tried this year, according to the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky, which is cooperating with the United States Department of Agriculture in testing the grading plan in burley and dark-leaf tobacco markets.

Negotiations are under way to install the service at the Paris market for burley tobacco. Farmers, warehousemen and other interested parties in the vicinity of Paris, with a few exceptions have expressed themselves as believing that the service would be beneficial. If all warehouses and other interested in tobacco marketing will lend the experiment their support, the service seems assured.

for the Paris market, it is anticipated. The grading service, which was developed at Lynchburg, Va., provides for a government grader, on the warehouse floor, whose duty it is to examine the tobacco and place on the warehouse ticket the official grade into which the tobacco falls. The auction is then conducted in the usual manner, except that the grade is announced before the tobacco is sold. The average prices paid for each grade are posted in the warehouse, so that buyers and farmers can see how the tobacco is selling grade by grade.

This information, it is said, will be of advantage to farmers who are in doubt whether or not to accept a bid. If they receive a bid about 10% below the stage price for the grade and quality of their tobacco, then they are getting about the prevailing market price. Buyers, too, will be benefited by the official grading, it is said, in their opinion of each basket, made in the hurry and rush of the sale, may be either substantiated or refuted by the deliberate judging of the grader.

Increased Number Study Agriculture And Home Economics

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—The increased enrollment in the College of Agriculture of Kentucky indicates a growing interest in the study of agriculture, according to Dean Thomas P. Cooper.

Two hundred and forty-eight students are enrolled in agriculture and home economics, compared to 217 at this time last year. One hundred and forty-eight students are studying agriculture and 100 are studying home economics.

Dean Cooper points out that interest in agriculture gradually is getting back to the pre-war basis. In the meantime, he said, positions for agricultural college graduates have increased in number and new fields opened up for men and women trained in agriculture and home economics.

Sixty-two counties and 11 states are represented in this year's enrollment in the Kentucky College of Agriculture. The states are Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Connecticut, Georgia, Virginia, West Virginia, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas, and Kentucky.

One foreign country is represented. Georgia Evenins came all the way from Russia to study here.

One girl is studying agriculture. She came from Chicago to make a special study of light horses, and hopes eventually to own a Thoroughbred horse farm. No boys are studying home economics.

Thirty-nine students in the Freshman class in the College of Agriculture were members of agricultural 4-H clubs, and through club work obtained their inspiration to continue their education.

As a result of demonstrations on the farms of G. H. Buchanan and T. W. Minor & Company, 10 Knox county farmers will sow alfalfa this fall.

Suggests Good Food Habits for Children

Physicians agree that good food habits are essential for good health. The habits for the various food flavors is developed and not inherited. If the following suggestions are observed, says Miss Florence Inlay, of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, children can be taught to eat all foods.

1. Start when the child is very young to give him tastes of new foods, but remember that a baby should always be fed under a physician's direction.
2. Gradually change liquids to solids and from just a taste to larger amounts.
3. Have the food well cooked, mildly seasoned and finely chopped.
4. See that the child has at least three hours of outdoor play daily.
5. See that the child is rested and calm at mealtime.
6. Have meals at regular times, approximately five hours apart.
7. Have foods which the child is learning to like frequently and attractively.
8. Modify the flavors of strongly flavored foods by using them in creamed dishes, soups and the like.
9. Always serve something the child likes with something he dislikes.
10. Interest the child in the food by letting him help prepare the dish, plan the menu, etc.
11. Create a happy atmosphere at the table and do not nag at the child with a continual suggestion to eat.
12. Do not make his eating habits the topic of conversation, and mention them only in positive terms. In other words do not talk about the child's dislikes before him.
13. Be sure the child is well and his throat in good condition and then do not allow him to "work you" by posing illness, choking, etc.
14. Eat the foods yourself which you expect to teach the child to eat.

Inconvenient Voting

The straggle of the November election calls to mind the inconveniences in Calloway county. This project should especially interest the Democrats of this county because greater convenience in voting would often insure a much larger vote, which might conceivably swing a state election from defeat to victory in a close campaign.

There is little question but that Calloway county does not have sufficient polling places to afford the voters the convenience to which they are normally entitled. In view of the vast size of some of the precincts some voters are several miles from the polls and on inclement days, such as we often have at the November general election, are unable to get to the polls at all. Such a condition unquestionably cuts down the Democratic majority in this county on such occasions.

STUBBORNNESS.

AMATEUR WRITING.

HURKALIDS.

The reader asks: "What actuates a stubborn man?"

Answer—Meanness. Scarcely him sufficiently, and he will come out of it.

I find satisfaction and value in the writing of amateurs. Their writing is of an audience appeal.

I pick up a book of an old professional like Bernard Shaw or H. G. Wells. Both these men (and most of the noted display content for us readers too frequently, whereas by reason of our great number, we have accomplished more than the few authors who all their skill manipulating the make-up box. . . . I find very good things in amateur writing. . . .

before, modest book by Alfred Hitch, published by the author in the usual amateur style. I quote a sample: "Virtue is its own reward; anything else is a bribe. . . . Not to fear is not courage, but insensibility. Courage is to fear and still attempt. . . . The possible always happens sooner or later. . . . The less people have in themselves the more they seek the society of others. . . . The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam celebrates that disgusting trait in man to get drunk when anything goes wrong (whereas adversity is the precise time one should remain sober). It is not strange that in the custom of 'treating' a friend, the custom is to offer him poison that should go to an enemy? . . . Dogs are not as good as they are under of other things. . . . The only immortality of which man is worthy would be that of preservation in alcohol with other reptiles and insects; and two or three specimens would be enough. . . . Give me facts, and I will not ask for truth. . . . The Russians and Germans cheerfully followed their sovereigns through pillage and murder, and turned from them only when they failed. . . .

I have never been able to understand a drunkard. Every man is a drunkard for making a fool of himself occasionally; and if a man is behaving when we hear of his folly, it is his public. But the folly of the drunkard is continuous; he punishes himself every week or every day, and knows the loss is greater than the profit; not one drunk in the many has engaged in his paid him. Therefore how does such a man satisfy his conscience? An old drunkard tells me the exhilaration of a good stiff drink of whiskey lasts for minutes. . . . such exhilaration lasts for minutes; in the case of a drunkard, he pays with the common currency. Unless he is to a fortune, he accepts the unnecessary disgrace of poverty and even if born with a silver spoon in his mouth, he soon spends it out, and substitutes poverty. What is the philosophy of the drunkard? Or of the idle? Or of the dead beat? Or other persistent violator of rules of human society? They are exiles, but usually they are merely exercise in the trade of a liar, wherein one insults himself with further injury.

Twenty-six farmers of the Peaks community in Franklin county clipped their sheep under the supervision of County Agent B. M. Henth. These farmers dip their sheep in the spring and the fall for the control of scab, ticks and lice.

Tests made by Jefferson county farmers indicate that potato disease borne on seed can be controlled by soaking the seed in a solution of 7 1/2 gallons of water and an ounce each of hydrochloric acid and corrosive sublimate.

Adlerika relieves GAS and sour stomach in TEN minutes. It cleans BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing poisons you never knew were there. Don't fool with medicine which cleans only PART of the bowels, but let Adlerika give stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and you'll feel good again!"—Dale Stubbiefield & Co., Drugists.

WEAK SPELLS

"I was so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockroft of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything. . . . At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt. . . . I felt like it would split open. . . . Spells of weakness would last for weeks. . . . I read of Cardui. I took the bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before. . . . I give the credit to Cardui, for after I had given up all hope, I got well."—Mrs. J. B. Cockroft.

Faxon High School Notes

Mr. Ed Filbeck addressed the faculty and student body of Faxon High School, Thursday morning, Oct. 10, with a splendid speech on "Thrill and Banking". He gave a short history of money, and made a "fractious" talk on thrift. Mr. Filbeck is one of Murray's most prominent and successful bankers, being at present cashier of the Bank of Murray. He is also Mayor elect, Boy Scout Master, and a former instructor of M. S. T. G. Students, faculty, and visitors unite in a cordial invitation to Mr. Filbeck to come to us again.

Mr. D. H. Hays, member of the County Board of Education, and Mrs. Desires Hays, former teacher of F. H. S. were visitors at school Thursday morning to hear Mr. Filbeck's address.

Little Jimmie Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberts is celebrating his first birthday. He was born at his home two weeks ago. It is hoped he will soon be able to re-enter school.

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as easily as if they drank kerosene every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the kerosene or poison, created by numerous failed waste matter in their complicated digestive systems. Sooner or later disease will conquer their weakened bodies.

If you have daily stools, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, insomnia, no appetite, bilious attacks or pains in the back and limbs, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. The worst and most common cause for this condition is a laxative vegetable cathartic which acts on the natural way. Get a bottle today from Dale, Stubbiefield & Co.

Gentry Brothers Circus Will Give Mile Long Spectacular Parade

"Many times has the phrase 'a kaleidoscope of color and splendor' been used in describing the famous parades of the Mardi Gras and other festival occasions both abroad and at home, but never could it be more appropriately used than when applied to the marvelous street parade which will be seen in Murray on Monday, September 21 when the Gentry Brothers Circus exhibits here.

The parade will be a work of art on the part of the most skilled artists and craftsmen of France, Spain and Germany, as well as scores of Americans. The designs are new and the immense tableaux wagons, as well as all other parade equipment were completed in time for the opening of the season this spring.

Five bands furnish the music for the picturesque pageant, and these are aided by numerous calliope and pipe organs. The comprehensive collection of the rarest animals known to man will be shown in open dens in the parade. The Gentry Brothers wild animals are considered by leading zoologists to be the finest specimens in America.

The parade will leave the show grounds at 11 a. m., and headed by the trumpeting bands and blaring bugles the magnificent spectacle will wind its way through the principal streets of the city.

In the parade will be found big herds of lumbering elephants, camels, zebras, scorpions of chariots, barges and allegorical floats. All of the parade equipment is gorgeously decorated, beautifully fashioned, gem studded, lavishly draped, and in the brilliancy of the sun presents a glorious array such as never seen here before in former parades.

After the parade the menagerie doors open at 1 o'clock and the big show performance starts at 2 p. m. At night the menagerie doors open at 7 p. m., and the big show performance begins at 8 p. m.

Gentry Brothers this season offer the greatest circus performance ever appearing with the organization during its nearly half century of continuous success. Among these are the Cottrell-Fowell troupe and the Davenport family.

4-H Club Jerseys in Top Places at Blue Grass Fair

Four-H agricultural club members from Central Kentucky made a spectacular showing of Jersey at the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington, winning some of the highest awards in the open classes, in competition with some of the best breeders in Kentucky.

Smith Carraro, a Carroll county Jersey calf club boy, won the female junior championship in the open classes, on his junior year.

Taylor county club boy, showed his aged cow to second place in the open classes, after winning the senior and grand championships of the club show.

George Bickett, of Marion county, won first place in the open classes on her two-year-old heifer.

Woodson Robinson, a dairy herd improvement association and began testing their cows, according to the dairy section of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

The association in Marion, Washington and Taylor counties have been divided into two associations, one in Marion county and the other in Washington and Taylor counties. There are now 10 dairy herd improvement associations in the state with a total of 225 herds and 4,286 cows on test.

Seventy-three cows produced 50 pounds or more of fat each and 280 cows produced 40 to 50 pounds of fat each last month.

Sixty-four cows were culled out as unprofitable and sold for beef. Three purebred bulls were purchased.

The dairy herd improvement associations, through the employment of testers, are doing much educational work among herd owners. In one association, after four months of testing, one herd of 13 cows was found to be producing more milk and butterfat than another herd of 26 cows. The owner of the smaller herd received $555 for milking 13 cows while the owner of the other herd received $408 for milking 26 cows.

Special attention is being given to proper feeding for maximum production. One man who was not convinced that it pays to feed grain saw the production of his herd of 30 cows drop 6,000 pounds of milk in one month. He is now feeding grain to supplement pasture.

Seven hundred people attended the annual 4-H club tour in Pike county. John B. Morris, master farmer, was the principal speaker.

Crops and Livestock Should Be Balanced

An important problem in farming is the proper balancing of feed crops and livestock, points out the department of farm economics of the University of Kentucky in Bulletin No. 289, which is a study of the purchase region agriculture.

If livestock and livestock products are to be produced economically most of the feed must be grown on the farm, the bulletin continues. Legumes and pastures provide good ration and to improve or maintain fertility.

In deciding upon the kinds and amounts of livestock that can be most profitably kept on a given farm it is necessary to know the approximate amounts of land, man labor, horse work and cash costs required to provide feed and care for each. It is also important to know the amount of land that must be cultivated and the amount that can be kept in hay and pasture. The bulletin gives the approximate acres of crops and pasture required to provide the necessary feeds for the principal kinds of livestock. A table shows the amount of feed necessary to keep a dairy cow, 12 sheep, a sow and pigs and 30 chickens for one year, and the cultivated and hay and pasture land and the amount of work required, and the cost of producing this feed.

Making the Southland a Neighborhood

For many years the great distances that separated the spacious plantations and the scattered cities of the Southland isolated the southern states from one another and from the rest of the world.

But no longer is the South isolated. Today it has taken the place it deserves in the nation's industry and commerce. Modern transportation by land, water and air carries the products of southern farms and factories to all parts of the world.

An important factor in this modern era is the telephone. Whether you depend on it to carry your voice around the corner, across the continent or over the Atlantic, you will find it ready to serve you—speedily, efficiently, economically.

This company is ever alert to reduce telephone distance, to make larger telephone neighborhoods. To that end we are spending over $30,000,000 during 1929 in the nine southeastern states that we serve.

"Glorious Indeed, Was The Relief I Obtained", Exclaimed Happy Lady.

MRS. DOUGLAS CAYCE. "Konjola was the remedy I needed right from the start," said Mrs. Douglas Cayce, 106 Twelfth Street, Hopkinsville, Ky. "My stomach, liver and bowels were dreadfully out of order. I was subject to bilious attacks, splitting headaches and dizzy spells. Often I spent the entire day in bed. I tried to get up. The stomach and bowel troubles added greatly to my misery."

"My friends recommended Konjola to me, and urged me to try it. Just as I was told it would do, Konjola went to the source of my troubles. My liver was regulated and my complexion took on a healthy glow. Bilious attacks disappeared. Then my bowels began functioning as Nature intended—and never cause any more trouble. Stomach disorders are gone. I obtained relief from Konjola, and I praise it highly."

Konjola is sold in Murray at Dale, Stubbfield and Co. drug store and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section. Adv.

EXPLANATION OF TABLE

A 60 candle power lamp costs only three-fifths of a cent an hour to burn. If you burn one 60 candle power lamp from dusk till 10 o'clock every night throughout the year it will burn 38 hours in June and 204 in December. At three-fifths of a cent an hour per lamp you would use 22 4-5 cents worth of electricity in June and $1.23 in December. You are getting the same amount of light in each case, but in the winter you have used Electric Light More Hours. If you keep a store and close every night at 6 o'clock in summer you will need no light whatever, but in December there are 80 dark hours from dusk till 6 o'clock, and it will cost you 48 cents per lamp for the 80 hours. Whenever you think your electric light bills are too high we want you to tell us about it—but kindly take the above into consideration in contrasting your winter and summer bill.
